

Lacrimus Testarosa

DOCa Rioja

VINEYARD AND VARIETIES

The vineyard is located in High Rioja, where the atlantic influence is really present. Sandy-limestone soils with alternating layers of gravel and stones.

The Garnacha variety provides more grape intensity, the Graciano endows this wine of a floral and spicy component.

WINEMAKING

- Bleeding of both varieties separately. Subsequent fermentation in stainless steel at low temperature.
- Part of the wine undergoes malolactic fermentation to reduce acidity and to increase aromatic complexity.

TASTING

The blend of both varieties exhibits red fruits with nuances of flowers and spices, forming together a complex wine, where power and art merge into a jewel.

DOCa Rioja

85% Garnacha
15% Graciano

Graciano
fermented in oak

13,5 % alc.

Rice, vegetables,
white meat, and
cream cheese.